

Southwood Nature Preserve 2018

2651 Holloway Avenue, North St. Paul
(Meet at the observation deck)

Earth Day Clean-up, Saturday, April 21, 9 am – noon

Celebrate Earth Day working on projects in the preserve. Assist Master Naturalist Volunteers in removing invasive plants, cleaning up trash and celebrating spring in North Saint Paul's only Nature Preserve. A light lunch will be served for volunteers.

Prairie Day, Sunday September 16, 1 pm – 4 pm

The rolling hills of North Saint Paul were once covered with native grasses, wildflowers and scattered oak trees. Restoration efforts by volunteers since 2007 are reestablishing native vegetation to this ecosystem. Spend the afternoon exploring the preserve through a variety of interactive activities.

Work Day, Saturday, October 20, 8 am – noon

Fall is a great time to be out in the preserve. It's also a prime time to track down and remove unwanted invasive plants. Join Master Naturalist Volunteers as we tackle a variety of projects. A light lunch will be served for volunteers.

Become a Southwood Nature Preserve Task Force Member!

Join a friendly group of community members working to improve and preserve a little piece of nature in North St. Paul. Enjoy spending time outside while restoring native plants, sustaining a diverse habitat for wildlife and improving Southwood Nature Preserve for the enjoyment and education of the greater community.

We serve in an advisory capacity to North St. Paul's Park and Recreation Commission, meeting 9 times throughout the year at North St. Paul City Hall. We gather to plan and coordinate 3 main events (see above).
